PRESS RELEASE

IN/SIGNIFICANT I'm in silence

CIRIACA+ERRE

Saturday October 25th, from 4:00 PM, Buchmann Lugano Gallery will host IN/SIGNIFICANT, I'm in silence, the performance of the Italian-Swiss artist Ciriaca+Erre.

The performance will directly involve the audience, making the visitor active protagonist of the event. The spectator will come in a space delimited by white clothes hanged up in the center of the gallery, where a familiar gesture will acquire new meanings.

Inside this space, Ciriaca+Erre will receive, one-by-one, each guest, sharing a close gesture that nowadays has become almost insignificant. After each action, Ciriaca+Erre will donate a simple white pebble with the writing "I'm in silence": an encourage to experience the silence, feel oneself, the others and, at a deeper level, the nature and the universe. The artist will keep silent for 366 consecutive hours (about 15 days), while writing a "silence diary".

Once finished, the main materials used in the performance, together with a video, will become a video installation, on display at the gallery from October 28th.
